

Staycation Winners

My wife, my son (nearing the end of 30 day leave after returning from deployment) and I picked up an Expedition from Sanderson Ford on Tuesday, it was completely loaded (I think) and a full tank of gas, and we drove it to Buck Springs Resort on Wednesday.

Angel at Buck Springs was unbelievable. In less than 5 minutes, it was like we were old friends and hadn't seen each other in years. She gave us our choice of a variety of rooms and couldn't do enough for us. She told us that as a result of Rosie's talk on his show the Saturday before our trip, she had already had one phone call inquiring about her rates, etc. She was very happy.

We enjoyed a variety of restaurants on the way there, during our stay and returning to Phoenix. In addition, my son and I went skiing at Sunrise Resort on Thursday. We visited some sites of interest on the way up and while we were there Wednesday and Thursday, I had to have the Expedition back on Friday.

This was one of two areas in the state that we haven't already seen during our weekend trips since arriving in AZ in 2004 (the other being the area west of the North Rim of the Grand Canyon and north of the Colorado River).

It was a great time and we are definitely going back sometime this summer or early fall and will of course be staying at the Buck Springs Resort.

Thanks for your efforts, the gift card and gift bag. It was all very good, we enjoyed everything about it, except having to return to Phoenix.

My personal thanks for Rosie in putting this idea into motion. I'll certainly be talking it up and to all involved (Sanderson, Buck Springs Resort and Rosie on the House), I'll be giving my seal of approval and recommendation to everyone.
