

The work went great, price was fair. We did also get some estimates on work for hanging pictures and fixing a leaky toilet--I think the total on that was $125 or $150. I knew my husband would have a cow if I paid someone that much to do something we could do ourselves, so we skipped on that work. (I had my 21 year old do it instead!) I felt Handyman Connection was honest and fair and would not hesitate to use them again.
