Question for Rosie: Just wanted to let you know we just had our enormous elm tree trimmed by Integrity Trees Service. My husband is the most anal person on earth. The team did an amazing job. My husband is a safety specialist for SRP and was very impressed with how the team approached this job. They performed a tailboard meeting prior to starting. They used fall protection and made sure that they kept the area safe for pedestrians and auto traffic. Thank you for all you do and for making sure that the trades you recommend can satisfy the most Amal person on earth.
