Question or Comment

Rosie,

After having bad luck with cheap contractors, I finally decided to take your advice and I used your referral list when we chose new windows for our house. We chose Pella Windows and I cannot tell you how professionally the Pella Company handled every aspect of the job. From helping us choose the best windows we could afford to the delivery and installation, everything went beautifully. An incorrect window was ordered and that was handled and reordered before we even knew what happened.

The windows look beautiful (except the one that still needs to be replaced). We shopped around for windows and while I know we did not get the cheapest price, we were able to get upgraded windows and outstanding installation for not that much more money. (we chose the fiberglass, double pane, low e glass and argon filled)

If anyone does not use Pella Windows for their projects, they're missing out on an enjoyable experience. Please pass this to the owner.
