Premium kitchen remodel

The clients' desire for this new kitchen was to open the space up to the family room and entertainment area. The dropped soffit was removed to raise the ceiling height. New LED lighting was used extensively, even to illuminate the interior of the Lazy Susan cabinet. A custom island was added to increase the functionality of the space. The quartz countertop adds a maintenance free and luxurious feel to this spacious, welcoming design. The contract price for this project was $90,000, completed in time for the arrival of out of town guests.

Excellent finishes and details

1. Solid wood maple cabinets from Wellborn.
2. Pendant lighting above island and recessed ceiling lights brighten the kitchen space.
3. Soffit removed and ceiling raised added additional space for taller cabinets, as well as opened up the entire kitchen revealing a welcoming feel.
4. Maintenance free quartz countertops from Cambria.
5. Undermount composite sink compliments the countertop and brushed nickel faucet ties it all together.
6. Extra large slab of quartz for the island adds a rich feel.
7. Large island allows plenty of room for the family to gather, use as a work space and includes lots of added storage.
8. Wood plank-look porcelain floor in staggered sizes gives the look of an authentic wood floor with the advantage of durable porcelain.
